Facebook. Join "Allotjament TecnoCampus" to find offers of flats.

Uniplaces. Innovative service for students that makes the booking process easier.

Join the Buddy Program!

Buddy Program is a student's commission whose aim is to enhance student's participation for the integration and adaptation of the incoming students who arrive at TecnoCampus through a mobility programme. In that way, locals and international students get together to take a cultural and a linguistic exchange through the organisation of playful, sporty and gastronomic activities. We believe that the Buddy Program is such a positive tool to grow any student's academic and personal experience.

Before the beginning of the course, each local member is assigned to an international student depending on their studies, hobbies or languages. Once the couples are set up, they will be able to contact each other so the incoming student can receive his Buddy's help.

Don't miss the opportunity to meet other students who will help you to make your adaptation easier. Thus, if you would like to join the program, you will receive an email from the International Relations office about how to register shortly before starting your mobility's program.

Canteen and restaurant

At the Campus you can also enjoy a snack during class breaks at the canteen. There is as well a cheap and delicious menu downstairs at the restaurant only for 7.20€, which will be composed by first and second dish, a dessert, a drink and a piece of bread.

You can choose between having lunch indoors or outdoors at the terrace while enjoying the sun and warm weather.

All extra-academic activities (leisure, culture, sports...) at TecnoCampus are offered and organized by University Life. We want to promote the cultural activities for our students: creating group activities, associations and organizing cultural and sport activities at the University.

Mataró

Mataró city

Mataró is the capital and largest town of the Maresme region with a population of over 120.000. It is located on the coast, between Cabrera de Mar and Sant Andreu de Llavaneres, about 30 kilometres north-east from Barcelona.

The town's main feature is its large port, which is one of the most important on the Maresme coast, and it also has a number of large city beaches.

The coastal N-II highway follows the same path as the original Roman road and nearby are the archaeological remains of the Roman villa of Can Llauder.

Mataró is famous for so many activities you can join. The main points to meet with friends are: the beach, the mall, or the main city centre street called La Riera, where you can find lots of shops, cafes and many restaurants. Of all the things to do, the thing you cannot miss is the nightlife. Mataró has a party area near TecnoCampus where you can go out to clubs like Cocoa, Miracle, Classic or Clap.

Barcelona city

Barcelona is the capital of Catalonia with a population of 1.6 million inhabitants (3.2 million inhabitants adding the metropolitan area). Its excellent location on the shores of the Mediterranean, its gentle climate and its open cosmopolitan character make the Catalan capital an extraordinary place to live.

It is currently recognized as a global city due to its importance in the spheres of culture, finance, business and tourism. Its port is one of the foremost in the Mediterranean and the city is a transport hub between Spain and France.

Harmoniously integrating tradition and modernity, Barcelona combines the architectural evidence of its Roman and Medieval past with both Modernism (Catalan Art Nouveau) –with Gaudí as the leading exponent of this architectural style– and gems of contemporary architecture such as the Agbar Tower. Its gradual evolution has made it a focal point for architecture lovers.

Barcelona, the Southern Gate to Europe, hosts one of the largest university communities in Europe, made up of 200.000 students and more than 15.000 professors in seven universities offering a wide range of undergraduate and postgraduate programmes.

Its potential has made it a magnet for new trends from around the world. Design, music, fashion, art and cinema professionals are part and parcel of this dynamic city. A broad offer in culture, sports, and leisure and nature activities rounds out the spectrum of opportunities. A perfect place to combine quality academic activity with a good social life.
